

Plenary Session 2: Working with Remote Board

Rodziah Zainudin
Head of Legal
Shell Malaysia

REMOTE BOARD EFFECTIVENESS IS NOT A MYTH

- 1. Directors' Competency: Structured onboarding, Directors' Handbook, Business Imperatives & Performance review.
- 2. Virtual working capabilities & support: Secured IT equipment/ platforms, cyber-security risks & virtual meeting etiquettes.
- 3. Segregation of duties, pre-work and post-engagements: Intentional collaboration. Latest information & data-driven. Risk management review.
- 4. Board in CRISIS: Focus on strategic matters & preserving long-term value of the company. Work together in the spirit of "effectiveness" not "oversight".
- 5. Business Continuity Plan for Board & Management: Bespoke BCP. Stakeholder engagement plan. Carry out exercise/simulation.
- 6. Chairman as key integrator: Engaging, inclusive, clarity on actions & CARE (CEO, management team and staff are highly-stressed).

6 STEPS TO GETTING STARTED

1

TURN ON CAMERAS

Ask everyone to turn on their camera if possible. Being able to see each other increases the feeling of connection and engagement but it is not a requirement for a productive meeting.

2

USE GALLERY VIEW

Ask people to switch to gallery view. Gallery view allows you to see everyone, not only the speaker. This can make you feel like you are part of a group and not only in a lecture.

3

ASK PEOPLE TO MUTE THEMSELVES

Ask people to remain on mute if they are not speaking. This will help to improve sound quality and reduce the likelihood of people talking over one another.

4

DEFINE THE RULES OF ENGAGEMENT

Lay down the ground rules. Tell people how to engage: simply unmute themselves? Raise their physical—or digital—hand? Write in the chat?

5

ENCOURAGE THE LISTING OF NAMES AND PRONOUNS

Increase inclusivity by asking everyone to use the name tool to list their preferred name and pronouns.

6

ACKNOWLEDGE IF YOU'RE RECORDING

Let people know if you are recording, how you plan to use the recording, and where they can access it.

It is important to give everyone the chance to engage during the meeting. Allowing people to participate in the meeting increases engagement and learning.

CHECK-IN

Virtual meeting strategies

Set a virtual background

Talk through the chat

Use breakout rooms

Encourage individual reflection or journaling

Share screens

Try whiteboards and polling

Have everyone contribute to a shared document

How to get people talking

Use the "think, pair, share" approach

Go around the (virtual) room

Use the "popcorn" approach to call on people

...And More

Contextualize the meeting

What are the next steps?

Run an activity that summarizes outcomes

Continue the conversation via email, social media, or other platforms

Develop meaning from your virtual meetings

Just as interaction during the meeting plays an important role in keeping people engaged, so does seeing products that developed from the meeting. Use these strategies to develop deliverables.
